Market Analysis of Cardiology:

3rd International Conference on Cardiovascular Medicine and Cardiac Surgery 2018 welcome presenters, exhibitors and attendees from all over the world to Berlin, Germany during July 05-06, 2018. The organizing committee is preparing for an exciting and informative conference program including lectures, workshops, symposia on a wide variety of topics, poster presentations and various programs for participants from across the globe. We cordially invite you to join us at the 3rd International Conference on Cardiovascular Medicine and Cardiac Surgery, where you will have a meaningful experience with scholars from overseas. Organizing committee and all members of Cardiovascular 2018 look forward to meet you at Berlin, Germany.

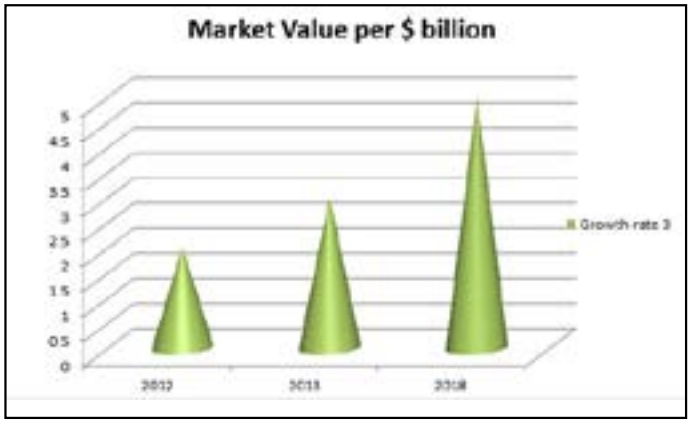
Scope and Importance:

The field of Cardiology is a medical specialty responsible for the diagnosis of disease, treatment and prevention measures of cardiovascular disease. Cardiologists study the dysfunctions of the heart, but the study of adult and child heart disorders are through dissimilar training pathways. Therefore, an adult cardiologist (often unqualified and called just “cardiologist”) is not fully trained to take care of children, and pediatric cardiologists are inadequately trained for adults. The surgical feature are not included in cardiology and are in the discipline of cardiothoracic surgery, For example, Cardiopulmonary bypass and Coronary artery bypass surgery are two surgical procedures performed by surgeons, not cardiologists.

Market Analysis of Cardiology:

According to a new technical market research report, Cardiovascular Surgical Devices Technologies and Global Markets from BCC Research:

- The global cardiovascular surgical devices market was valued at $29.7 billion in 2012
- Global Market Value has increased $31.7 billion in 2013
- Global Market growth to be expected nearly $47.2 billion by 2018



In 2010, over 7.5 million inpatient cardiovascular operations and procedures were performed in the United States alone. During that year, the total inpatient hospital cost for cardiovascular disease was estimated to be $71.2 billion, about one quarter to the total cost of U.S. inpatient hospital care. The American Heart Association further estimates that, by 2030, the total direct medical costs associated with cardiovascular disease in the U.S. alone has increased from $312.6 million in 2009 to almost $1.5 trillion (in 2010 dollars).

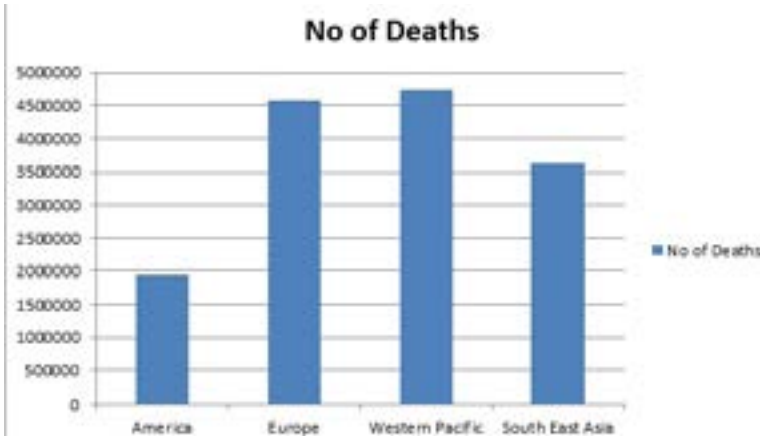
Although incidence rates of cardiovascular disease in many European and other developed nations parallel those of the United States, many developing nations actually have much higher rates of cardiovascular disease. The World Health Organization estimates that 60% of all cardiovascular disease occurs in less developed countries. Recent increase in incidence of cardiovascular disease has been fueled by higher obesity rates in less developed countries; for example, WHO estimates that there are 70 million overweight people in China alone. disability adjusted life years in 1990 to an estimated 82 million disability adjusted life years by 2020. This increase will be most acutely felt in nations such as Egypt, India and the republics of the former Soviet Union

Market Analysis of Cardiology:

Statistics of total no of deaths due to Cardiovascular diseases:

Cardiovascular disease is the leading global cause of death, accounting for 17.3 million deaths per year, a number that is expected to grow to more than 23.6 million by 2030. Of these deaths, an estimated 7.4 million were due to coronary heart disease and 6.7 million were due to stroke.

Total no of deaths:- 17327000



Market Value of Cardiology:

The World Heart Federation (WHF) unites 200 members spanning 100 countries in the fight against cardiovascular disease Global Data research predicts the worldwide market for CMD devices will reach $1.2 billion by 2017. The global cardiovascular device industry is growing rapidly and is said that a growth of $15billion is made from 2010-2015 as per BCC research. Products included in this market are electrocardiograph monitoring equipment, which is set to see 4% growth by 2017 to be worth over $410 million

Invitation

Dear Attendees,

We are glad to announce the 3rd International Conference on Cardiovascular Medicine and Cardiac Surgery to be held in Berlin, Germany from July 05-06, 2018 organized by Conference Series in collaboration with generous support and cooperation from enthusiastic academicians and editorial Board Members.

This conference is a unique international platform that's a confluence of all stake holders of the ecosystem – Industry, Academia, Researchers, Innovators, Regulators – coming together to present and discuss current topics in Cardiovascular Medicine, Cardiac Surgery, Heart Diseases, Arrhythmias, Molecular Cardiology, Hypertension, Cardiac Nursing and Healthcare, Pediatric Cardiology, Cardiac Diagnostic Test, Heart Failure, Nuclear Cardiology & Cardiac CT, Interventional Cardiology Imaging, Percutaneous Coronary Intervention (PCR), Devices / CRT / ICD / Surgery, Cardiovascular Toxicology and Pharmacology, Clinical Cases In Cardiology.

As the premier event, we have developed a program with your interests in mind. About Berlin

Why Berlin: Berlin is the capital and the largest city of Germany as well as one of its 16 constituent states. With a population of approximately 3.7 million, Berlin is the second most populous city proper and the seventh most populous urban area in the European Union. Located in northeastern Germany on the banks of the rivers Spree and Havel, it is the centre of the Berlin- Brandenburg Metropolitan Region, which has roughly 6 million residents from more than 180 nations. Due to its location in the European Plain, Berlin is influenced by a temperate seasonal climate. Around one-third of the city's area is composed of forests, parks, gardens, rivers, canals and lakes

Berlin is a world city of culture, politics, media and science. Its economy is based on high-tech firms and the service sector, encompassing a diverse range of creative industries, research facilities, media corporations and convention venues. Berlin serves as a continental hub for air and rail traffic and has a highly complex public transportation network. The metropolis is a popular tourist destination. Significant industries also include IT, pharmaceuticals, biomedical engineering, clean tech, biotechnology, construction and electronics.
