About PULSUS

Nursing is a profession in the health care which helps patient to overcome the illness. They have a unique scope of practice and can practice independently. They act like a back bone in the hospitals, they also work with all members of the health care team to provide the care needed by each patient as an individual. Nurses guide their patients and patient's families to overcome their illness. As educators, they help whole community by teaching individuals and groups how to take steps to improve or maintain their health. Nursing profession gives a wide range of employment opportunities including medical practitioners to doctoral-level researchers and physician assistant. Nurses are health professionals who provide focused and highly personalized care. They are also in high demand—employment of registered nurses is projected to grow 22% from 2017 to 2027, quite faster growth than the average for all occupations, according to the studies.
