Market Analysis

BOSTON
USA
AUGUST 27-28
2018

Geographically, the hospice & palliative care centres market is segmented into North America, Europe, Asia Pacific, Latin America and Rest of the World. Hospice and palliative care centres are now recognized as a medical subspecialty by the American Board of Medical Specialties, as well as in Australia, Canada, England, New Zealand, and Ireland. Many European countries are also in the process of developing certification for palliative care. Most private health insurance companies include hospice care as a benefit. Some hospices are able to provide services without charge if a patient has limited or no financial resources. Hospice care expenses in U.S. are mostly paid by the Medicare and Medicaid services and the Department of Veteran Affairs.

Key Players for hospice & palliative care centres:

Most of the private insurance plans, health maintenance organizations (HMOs) and other managed care organizations also provide the expenses for hospice care in their plans and policies which further propel the demand for hospice and palliative care. Such hospice and palliative centres are also being established in emerging nations such as India, Brazil, Indonesia, and China where there are affordability issues, and inadequate healthcare accessibility. The hospice and palliative services market is therefore establishing in these markets and will be in great demand with increasing awareness. Type of Hospices & Palliative care services: Institutional care, nursing care, physician services, trained volunteer support, social services, spiritual support and counselling, home health aides, physical, and occupational, speech therapies, inpatient care, respite care, bereavement support and adult day care services. Based on the location, the hospice and palliative care centres market is analysed for patient's residence, hospice inpatient facility and acute care hospital. Due to an aging U.S. population, and sustained federal reimbursement, the growth of hospice and palliative care sector is increasing rapidly. Companies are also following marketing strategies for converting their companies into profit making organizations.
