Dear Fellows,

It is a great pleasure to welcome you all to the International Conference on Social Sciences & Interdisciplinary Studies happening in London, UK during August 7 and 8, 2017. This conference will host researchers from the social science and allied fields discussing their dynamic work on major global issues, such as health and medicine, and the interplay with human society and social relationships.

As a global platform, I regard the event as an excellent opportunity to exchange ideas and get acquainted with the research results of the attendants from around the world. In particular, this conference will highlight work on Social Science and Medicine, looking at social aspects of physical and mental health, issues of culture and disease, and policy and institutional development focused on medicine and health, along with many other topics. The tremendous growth of research focused on addressing the human condition and societal relationships as they relate to all that impacts health and medicine is contributing to the emergence of a better world in this millennium. This is your opportunity to learn about the most recent happenings, the newest developments, and the latest updates on social science research. I believe you will find the conference educational and inspiring. Thus, it is with great pleasure that I welcome you to join us at the most awaiting conferences and wish you a stimulating exchange across disciplines and across nations.

London is the capital city of England and the United Kingdom, and the largest city, urban zone and metropolitan area in United Kingdom, and the European Union by the most measures. Located on the River Thames, London has been a major settlement for two millennia, its history going back to its founding by the Romans, who named it Londinium. It is a leading global city, with strengths in the arts, commerce, education, entertainment, fashion, finance, healthcare, media, professional services, research and development, tourism and transport all contributing to its prominence. London has been described as a world cultural capital.

London has been described as a world cultural capital. It is the world’s most-visited city as measured by international arrivals and has the world’s largest city airport system measured by passenger traffic. London’s 43 universities form the largest concentration of higher education in Europe. In 2012, London became the first city to host the modern Summer Olympic Games three times. A multicultural city, London has a diverse range of peoples and cultures, and more than 300 languages are spoken within its boundaries. London has four World Heritage Sites: the Tower of London, Kew Botanic Garden, the Palace of Westminster, and St Margaret’s Church, National Maritime Museum, and the historic settlement of Greenwich Observatory.

Other famous landmarks are Buckingham Palace, the London Eye, Piccadilly Circus, St Paul’s Cathedral, Tower Bridge, Trafalgar Square, and The Shard. London is home to numerous museums, galleries, libraries, sporting events and other cultural institutions, they are the British Museum, National Gallery, British Library and 40 West End theatres. The Railway of London Underground is the oldest underground railway network in the world.

London is the seat of the Government of the United Kingdom, which is located around the Palace of Westminster. London’s status as the capital of England, and later the United Kingdom, has never been granted or confirmed officially by statute or in written form. London is one of the pre-eminent financial centers of the world and vies with New York City as the most important location for international finance.
