

Welcome Message

My Dear fellows,

I am honoured and delighted to welcome you to the 3rd International Conference on Veterinary & Animal Health going to be held during June 17-18, 2019 at Miami, USA.

I am extremely happy that Veterinary & Animal Health 2019 has been designed to offer comprehensive range of sessions that includes Trends in Animal Health and Rising issues in Veterinary Exploration. I hope you have a good time and opportunity to connect with expertise from scientific community and influential entrepreneurs from industries through their lectures and presentation and will also put forward many thoughts provoking strategies for future line of action in the area of Veterinary & Animal Health.

We are looking forward to meet all of you in Miami in June, 2019 to make Veterinary & Animal Health 2019 a grand success.

Best regards,

Sergio Canello
